

NEED ANOTHER RATE INCREASE TO HELP RAILS

Eastern Railroads Declare They Are Not Earning Guarantees Dividend.

CAN'T GET HELP FROM WEST

Decrease in Freight Shipments
Endangers Transportation Systems.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920)

Washington—Questions raised by practically all the New England railroads before the interstate commerce commission indicate that the entire financial policy of congress toward the railroads of the whole country as declared in the transportation act may break down unless relief of some kind is immediately forthcoming.

Congress plainly said the railroads of the country should earn at least five and a half to six per cent on the value of their property. The New England railroads have confessed before the interstate commerce commission that they are earning nothing as a whole and are insisting that all the other railroads east of the Mississippi should be compelled to give up at least $25,000,000 in revenue on freight rates to enable the New England lines to meet their deficit.

But the other railroads, on the other hand, contend that they too are failing by many millions to earn the six per cent which congress intended and they claim there isn't going to be any surplus revenue to divide with the New England group of roads. In fact, the eastern railroads which include some of the most important lines of the country, have been so hard hit by the sharp decline in freight shipments since October that they contend they are earning less than five per cent on the value of their property, and a serious question has been raised as to whether the interstate commerce commission will not find it necessary to award another general increase in freight charges in order to carry out the command of congress that the railroads should get at least five and a half per cent on their investment.

Onnase Rate Increase
The eastern railroads have further contended that the New England lines ought to increase their local freight and passenger rates within New England in order to meet the emergency, but New England shippers declare they couldn't stand any such raise and particularly would they oppose any increase in rates which was sectional and not general in its application.

The whole controversy hinges on the claim of the New England roads that the interstate commerce commission in valuing the railroads in the eastern group included the property of the New England lines estimated to be worth about $440,000,000, on which the government guarantee of six per cent would entitle them to over fifty million dollars annually. By the $340,000,000 was grouped with all the other railroad properties in the east thereby increasing the value of all railroads east of the Mississippi upon which the interstate commerce commission based its increase of forty per cent in freight rates. Had New England's property been withheld from the group, it is estimated that the other railroads would have obtained about $28,000,000 less. And New England's railroads ask that this be transferred to them.

Bankruptcy
Howard Elliott, formerly president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, and now president of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad, has appeared before the interstate commerce commission to support the New England case. He states emphatically that it will be a most serious thing for all the railroads of the country if the New England lines are permitted to go into the hands of a receiver as the New England railroad representatives have here told the commission will surely be the case if relief is denied them.

It is known that many railroad executives besides Howard Elliott are deeply concerned over the outcome of the New England case and while the other railroads east of the Mississippi do not feel like digging down into their pockets to help out the New England roads by permitting the divisions of joint freight rates to be increased, nevertheless they are hoping that some way may be found by which the new transportation act may be made to work. For they realize that a breakdown in the government guaranty method in one case might seriously affect the whole structure of transportation finance and might be especially serious at this time when economic conditions generally are in delicate stages of readjustment.

WAITERS' WAGES ARE CUT TWENTY PER CENT

Chicago—Twenty per cent reduction in wages for waiters was announced here today in one of the large hotel hotels. Waiters' wages which had risen to $90 a month and board, have been reduced to $70 and board effective Jan. 1. This compares with pre-war rates of $50 and board.

Poor business and declining prices of meals are the reasons given for the cut.

"Sinless Sabbath" crusaders are meeting opposition. A fight on proposed Sunday blue laws has been organized under the slogan "Keep the Sun in Sunday" and a parade ridiculing blue law rule was held in New York the other day. One of the floats is shown here.

SINN FEIN AND BRITISH FIGHT BLOODY BATTLE

Meager Reports of Fighting at Mullinagh Sunday Reach
Dublin.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin—Reports of the biggest battle yet fought in the present Sinn Fein uprising, which occurred at Mullinagh on Sunday night, were still fragmentary and conflicting today.

At least ten Sinn Feiners were killed and thirty thousand wounded or captured, while the British casualties were variously estimated at from eight killed and many wounded to but one seriously and several slightly wounded.

The Irish were said to have been routed.

Heavy military reinforcements and numbers of ambulances were still en route to the scene last night, which is located in an isolated mountainous district of Tipperary and has been a Sinn Fein stronghold.

According to some reports, a Sinn Fein force had prepared an ambush but was in turn surprised by the soldiers. The battle opened just at dusk and apparently lasted for some time, the Sinn Feiners fighting desperately despite the disadvantage of their position.

Advices from Clonabally in Tipperary, said that two civilians were killed there when they ignored the challenge of a sentry.

ALLEGED SLAYERS MEET AT MIDNIGHT

Court Refuses to Dismiss Charges Against Alleged
"Murder Cabal."

Macon, Ga.—A midnight conference between two members of the alleged "murder cabal" and several other persons will be brought into the investigation into the death of Frederick Shepard, Georgia peach king, Solicitor General Garrett said today.

Questioning one of the defense witnesses, D. McCann, in the preliminary hearing of the four defendants, Garrett drew from him an admission that such a night conference had been held after the corpse of Shepard had been exhumed in a search for traces of poison.

Mrs. Ione Henry and Mrs. Annie Cuts, two of the persons accused of conspiring to poison Shepard, attended it, McCann said.

The defense was building its case, following Judge Matthews' refusal to dismiss the charges.

PARDONS 28 PRISONERS
McAlester, Okla.—Twenty eight prisoners in the state penitentiary here will spend Christmas as free men, thanks to Gov. Robertson.

Nearly all of them had but a few days or weeks more to serve after Christmas and the Oklahoma executive granted them pardons.

KAHN SAYS TAX BURDENS CAUSED BUSINESS SLUMP

Excess Profits and Other High Taxes Interfere With Commerce.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Tax burdens on business are one of the principal causes of the present depression, Otto H. Kahn, New York financier, told the house ways and means committee today.

After Representative Freat, Wisconsin, called attention to W. G. McAdoo's statement that deflation caused the trouble, Kahn said:

"I think McAdoo in that statement had an eye to 1924 instead of 1921. I do not agree with three-fourths of what he said."

Kahn declared the excess profits tax must go.

"In theory it is good," he said, "but in actual operation, in every country, it causes such interference with commerce that its disadvantages outweigh its theoretical advantages."

"Something like the present financial and business troubles necessarily had to follow a devastating war and equally devastating peace, in its first three years did much to bring the condition we now have."

"During the last three years there has been an intolerable strain by taxation on business, and thus caused a scramble for funds, mounting debts and finally collapse of values, including agricultural."

The present taxation system Kahn blamed for the housing shortage.

Opposes Exemption

"The available supply of mortgage money in New York City alone has been reduced $165,000,000 in one year," he said.

Kahn declared his opposition to the numerous exemptions of tax laws and said the trades should be made moderate enough so that no exemptions would be necessary.

"The combined rates of the income and surtaxes should not be above thirty per cent," he said, "and then I don't believe they ever will be evaded by investment in tax-free securities. The yield to the government would be about the same as now with a surtax of 75 per cent on high incomes."

Kahn said he favored higher rates of interest on refunded government obligations with no tax-free exemptions. Appropriation estimates asked by government departments will probably be greatly reduced. Chairman Fordney said in reply to Kahn's expression of the hope and belief of the country that proposed appropriations can be very materially curtailed.

"A fifteen per cent tax on net earnings would be gladly paid by business, I think, for the blessing of avoiding complicated calculations and uncertainties of the present system."

Would Boost Tariff
"A check tax of two cents would yield about $100,000,000 and the tariff could be made to yield $250,000,000 more than it now does without hurting anybody or becoming highly protective. I am not a high protectionist and best of all now when we must combat trade with Europe."

URGES TRADE PRIVILEGES TO ASSIST ALLIES

Reciprocal Trade Agreements
Suggested as Means of Collecting Debts.

PART OF TARIFF REVISION

Representative Longworth Opposes President's Plan for Free Trade.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Reciprocal trade agreements with the allies to aid in the payment of more than $12,000,000,000 due to the United States government and business interests in this country were advocated in the house today by Representative Nicholas Longworth, Ohio, a member of the ways and means committee.

Such agreement, he said, should be part of a general revision of the tariff laws, which he estimated could be made high enough to raise $350,000,000 more than the present customs or about $700,000,000.

The reciprocal trade agreement, he proposed, would give the allies advantages over other nations in American markets in exchange for similar concessions granted the United States abroad.

Attacking free trade proposals, Longworth said:

"I don't think that it is quite respectful for the debtor countries to assume that their debts, properly and honorably contracted, are not to be paid in full. But if it should eventually be the only possible way to collect these debts would be to surrender to the nations of the world the home markets of America. I should say let us sacrifice every cent of the money owed us rather than sacrifice our industrial independence."

Opposes Free Trade
"President Wilson proposes that we take down the bars against the world in order to enable certain nations of Europe to dispose of millions of dollars worth of goods here. Against such a policy the American people have recorded themselves by an emphatic and tremendous vote as I interpret the recent election."

"We have received specific instructions with regard to the policy of protective tariff as laid down by President McKinley, but I believe it to be in no way inconsistent that if we shall determine to legislate so far as the tariff is concerned with a view to making the debts of the allies more easy of collection that it is through reciprocal trade agreements that we can most effectively accomplish it."

D'ANNUNZIO TOLD TO DISBAND ARMY
Italian Fire Eater Told Government He Will Maintain His Position.

Rome—Gabriele D'Annunzio has until tonight to disband his legionnaires and release his warships.

The ultimatum from the Italian government gave him that long to comply with its demand. In his reply, he declared he would maintain his position by force.

Following notification of the ratification of the Rapallo treaty between Italy and Yugoslavia, General Caviglia, commander of Italian forces in the Adriatic region, sent the ultimatum to D'Annunzio, declaring that Italy no longer could continue the negotiations with dignity owing to D'Annunzio's position. Caviglia also demanded evacuation of the islands of Arbe and Vigliacca.

TRY FOR NEW ENDURANCE RECORD FOR AIRPLANES
Mineola, N. Y.—An attempt was made at Mitchell field today by Lieut. Ross C. Kirkpatrick and Max Good-nough, a mechanic, to break the world endurance flight record.

The army men started their flight at 7:30 a. m. in a ten-passenger Curtiss Eagle airplane. They hoped to remain in the air 35 hours. The present record, 24 hours and ten minutes, was made in England in 1914.

The aviators who were to alternate in driving through a system of dual control, planned to maintain an average altitude of 2,000 feet and start a glide.

From this height it would ordinarily require 15 or 20 minutes to reach the ground and it was believed repairs could be made in that time.

Kirkpatrick participated in the recent flight to Nome, Alaska, and returned.

DALLAS MERCHANT IS SICILIAN FEUD VICTIM

Dallas, Texas—Joe Ruggero, grocer, lay dying here today, the victim of a Sicilian feud, police said.

He was shot last night by an unknown gunman.

Vito Campanella, Sr., was arrested but later released after establishing an alibi.

Ruggero was under bond for the killing of Vito Campanella, Jr. in Ruggero's store last September.

Bill Bryan And His Cape On The Front Porch

The good people of Marion, O., are beginning to be bored by the visits of celebrities. But nobody shrugged or yawned when Bill Bryan breezed into town. Bryan's call was of unusual interest in itself—here was the old Democratic war horse meeting the G. O. P. standard bearer by invitation. It was Bryan's beautiful Napoleon cape that interested the Marionites. This picture of Bryan and President-elect Harding was snapped at the corner of the famous front porch. On the left is a secret service man.

PERMIT TRADING WITH RUSSIA AT TRADER'S RISK

Last Restriction on Trade With Soviets Is Removed by United States.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—American businessmen today were free to trade with Russia "at their own risk."

This means, according to government officials that while no restrictions will be placed on trade with the soviet neither will any aid be given to such trade and that any American who suffers losses or confiscation of his goods will get no help from this government.

This last restriction by the government was removed when the treasury department announced that export of gold and currency and dealings in exchange would be permitted.

Last July the state department removed the ban on Russian trade excepting only arms and munitions of war. This was never completely effective, however. There was no provision for exchange dealings.

Officials of this government have long held the belief that unrestricted trade with the soviet was the proper method of dealing with Russia. This has been made plain on several occasions, notably when the British started negotiations with the Russian bolshevik authorities.

Officials here have held that the British-soviet negotiations were a covered effort by the soviet to gain recognition.

Gotham Tries Curfew To Stop Crime Wave

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—A modified curfew law designed to aid the police in combatting the crime wave, had its first trial today.

Under orders of Commissioner Livingston, uniformed policemen stopped persons traveling in unlighted streets between midnight and daylight, searched them for weapons and required them to account for their presence there.

Dupe Users Blamed
Chicago—Inability of many voters to obtain whiskey at the bottom of the crime wave which is apparently sweeping the country, according to the opinion advanced today by Charles Fitzmaurice, head of the Chicago police department.

"Men out of work are unable to get whiskey," the chief said "and returning to use of dope. The dope funds a natural trend is toward the criminal class. They usually drift toward criminal associates. They obtain their drugs from criminals and in that way the number of possible criminals is increased."

"We all know that a dope user soon loses his sense of right or wrong and by his association with criminals becomes a criminal himself."

"Wealthy Chicagoans hired private detectives to guard their homes as reports of crime increased. The guard of Cyrus H. McCormick's home shot and wounded one of four men who attempted to hold him up."

"Timothy O'Connor, policeman, died today from bullet wounds received when attacked by eight bandits. He was guarding a store house of Marshall Field and company. The concern offered $1,000 reward for capture of the murderer."

The latest system of holdup men is to drag their victim into an auto and speed several blocks while they go through his pockets, and then throw him from the machine. Six men, four students at the University of Chicago, were robbed in this manner in the last twenty-four hours.

Burglars visited the home of George Barnes and escaped with $1,500 worth of goods early today.

Capture 2 Bandits
Milltown, N. J.—Two bandits were captured by a citizens' posse here shortly after midnight, following an unsuccessful attempt to rob the First National bank. Two others escaped.

A watchman heard a noise in the bank and sounded an alarm. Thirty citizens responded. Armed with rifles, pistols, shotguns, axes and pitchforks, they started for the bank.

Two of the robbers surrendered. They said they were Clifford Jackson, of New York, and Frank Vorhees, of New Brunswick.

"They returned to identify their companions."

Girls Are Robbed
Minneapolis, Minn.—Two men who lured Lydia Taylor and her companion in Loring park last night threatened to kidnap the girls and told them for ransom. Between them the girls made up $60 ransom money and were permitted to go their way.

LABOR PROTESTS REACH HARDING
President-Elect Due to Confer Today With Author of Anti-Strike Bill.

By United Press Leased Wire
Marion, Ohio—Rumors of disappointment in labor ranks at the action of the republican senate in rushing through the Poinsett anti-strike bill recently are beginning to reach here.

Some of the outspoken describe the senate action in harsh words and want Harding to use his influence against allowing the measure to get any further.

This situation made the arrival today of Senator Poinsett, who introduced the anti-strike measure, more significant.

Poinsett is also interested in scrapping the league of nations.

Harding is expected to outline to him the rough plan for an association of nations and a world court.

IOWA BANKER BURNED TO DEATH IN ST. PAUL

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul, Minn.—T. A. Doughty, prominent banker of Armstrong, Iowa, was burned to death in his room at the St. Paul Athletic club early today. Fire, believed caused by a lit cigarette, was discovered by employees at 8 a. m.

Dr. J. R. Vigar, hearing the commotion, smashed in the door and with another man dragged Doughty from his flaming bed into the hall. Artificial respiration was tried without result.

HOUSE AGREES TO CONSIDER TARIFF BILL

Emergency Measure Faces Opposition by Democrats and Wilson's Veto.

RECALL TAX EXTENSION

War Finance Corporation Resolution Probably Will Be Vetoed by Wilson.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—Passage of the emergency tariff bill by the house was indicated today when a proposal to take up the measure tomorrow passed 206 to 76. The majority of the democrats, however, the vote indicated, will oppose the bill.

The bill will come to debate Wednesday, assailed by producers and manufacturers whom it does not protect, facing opposition from both republicans and democrats in the house and senate and also certain veto by President Wilson if it should pass.

Congressional opponents of the bill declared it would leave farmers and manufacturers to charge as much as they could get because there would be no foreign competition in their commodities. The bill has also created a great clamor among manufacturers whose goods are not included.

The disposition of senate members is to reduce rather than increase the number of items in the bill and there is not the slightest probability that, if it passes, it will include a third of the commodities now mentioned in it.

Favorable action recently taken on the bill of Representative Edmunds, Pennsylvania, to allow fifty days grace in tax payments due December 15, was withdrawn today by the house ways and means committee.

Members said the bill is dangerous and that the committee made a mistake in reporting it.

The resolution reviving the war finance corporation was to be sent to the White House today. It was finally passed by congress yesterday when the senate agreed to house amendments.

The general impression is that President Wilson will veto the measure on advice of Secretary of the Treasury Houston who opposed it.

SAW GUN BUT CAN'T IDENTIFY SLAYER

Witness in McGannon Murder Trial Says He Saw Slayer Draw Gun.

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland—Adrian Short, fisherman, testifying today for the prosecution in the second degree murder trial of Judge William H. McGannon, chief justice of municipal court, said he saw "the big man" draw a revolver and fire the shot which killed Harold Kargy, garage proprietor, here last May.

Short said he could not identify the "big man" but described him as about six feet in height and about 250 pounds in weight.

The witness said he was on the way home when he saw three men on the street corner. He was not close enough to hear what was being said, but a heated argument was apparently going on, he said.

"I saw the big man draw a revolver. A flash of flame came from his hand," Short testified.

"I saw Kargy stagger but I didn't think he was shot. The big man hurried across the street. The man who was leaning against the telephone pole, also walked away."

The latter he identified as John W. Joyce, who was tried for and acquitted of the slaying.

Short was the first of half a dozen witnesses for the prosecution to refuse to identify the "big man" as McGannon. The others who were on or near the scene of the slaying, unhesitatingly identified McGannon as the "big man" who walked from the corner after Kargy was shot. Short is the only witness produced so far to claim to have actually seen the revolver drawn and the shot fired.

FIND WOMAN'S BODY
Long Beach, New York.—Efforts were being made today to determine whether the unidentified woman whose body was found partially buried on the beach here last night was murdered or committed suicide.

There was a bullet wound over her right eye, but no powder marks and a search failed to reveal a weapon in the vicinity.

Look For Improvement In Paper Industry Soon

Jobbers' Stocks Are Running
Low and Demand Will Soon Increase.

The fact that we are receiving inquiries as to prices of paper looks as if there is a very small supply in the hands of jobbers. Said E. D. Jodrey, of the Eastern Paper Company, "and it such as the case the chances are that the present depression in the market will be of short duration."

Mr. Lindberg stated that mail orders were light at present, but added that such was always the case around the holiday season when inventories were taken. He also stated that cancellation of orders had become quite a common occurrence during the last few weeks.

"We have not felt the depression as yet to any great extent," said Mr. Lindberg, "and have not laid off any men. Just how long these conditions will prevail is a matter of conjecture. Naturally we are buying only what we need for immediate consumption until prices adjust themselves."

Exports Improvement
William H. Falatick, manager of the tissue mill of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company, said that the mill was still being operated at full capacity, but that orders were coming in slowly. No reduction has been made in the operating force, but he was unable to tell what the future had in store in this respect. He was of the opinion that conditions would improve after New Year's day.

"I have reason to believe that there is very little paper in the hands of jobbers," said M. R. Bryan, traveling freight agent of the Union Pacific Railway Company, while in Appleton Monday, "and see no reason why business should not increase after New Year's."

Mr. Bryan was formerly employed in the local depot of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company, but of late years has been connected with the western road with headquarters in Milwaukee. He is personally acquainted with practically all of the paper manufacturers of Wisconsin, and especially those of Fox River valley.

Short Depression
"There are some lines of business that are going to be hit and hit hard," said Mr. Bryan, "before business gets back to a solid basis, but the paper making industry is not one of them. I venture to say that the present depression in that line is of short duration."

Mr. Bryan was not so optimistic of business generally. He states that the railroads were handling very little freight at present and that thousands of railway employees all over the country had been laid off. Large manufacturing plants are closing down everywhere and large cities are feeling the effects of it more than the smaller ones. In Milwaukee the number out of employment is estimated at 35,000.

"The lumber business," said Mr. Bryan, "is particularly affected. Saw mills in both the western and southern states have shut down for an indefinite period and coming nearer home those of Oshkosh closed down last week. Retrenchments are being made in all lines of industry."

Dogs Destroy Parcels
Patrons served by rural mail carriers are cautioned against leaving packages for mailing on the ground beside their mail box posts. The packages are within easy reach of dogs that damage them so they are almost unmailable. The better plan, carriers state, is to watch for the carrier's arrival and then bring the package out.

REALTORS TO URGE SECURITIES TAX

Two Appleton Men Attend Meeting of Directors at Madison Last Week.

Rather than exempt income from mortgages up to $10,000 from taxation, all securities, no matter what their nature, should be subject to income tax. This was the burden of a resolution adopted by the directors and past presidents of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers Association at a meeting at Madison Friday and Saturday. Daniel P. Steinberg, secretary of the state body, and P. A. Kornely, director, were present. A conference was also held at the capital building with the Wisconsin Brokers board.

The mortgage exemption question was discussed from all angles. It was the conclusion of the real estate men that legislation making mortgages

Parcel Post Mail Is Increasing as Christmas Day Approaches.

Some people who are not aware of postoffice hours were unable to mail packages Monday evening because they arrived too late. Postmaster Gustave Koller today informed the public that all windows open at eight o'clock in the morning and close at seven o'clock in the evening.

All possible speed is used to keep the postoffice clear. One of the heaviest loads of mail to leave Appleton Monday consisted of 100 sacks sent to the 3:45 o'clock Chicago and Northwestern train, southbound. The afternoon's business was the heaviest, although the night trains received their share.

tax-free would not help to solve the housing question nor would it provide more money for housing purposes. It would only enable men of means who hold the securities to dodge income tax. It was defined as a rise to arrive at the single tax plan, which places the burden of taxation on the land and home owner.

Help The Laborer
A tax on all securities no matter what their kind, was urged as the correct move, rather than further exemptions. The realtors believed municipal, government and other bonds should be assessed for income taxation the same as any other. This was believed to be the only way the laborer's taxes could be reduced. Removing taxation from securities would make him the "goat," because the loss would be made up on the real estate.

A copy of the resolution adopted by the directors will be mailed to the president, secretary and legislative committee of the national real estate association and to the presidents of state and local boards all over the United States.

The case of Emil T. Seidenglanz, Kewaunee attorney who was sentenced to state prison for one year for alleged perjury was discussed at the meeting. It was of interest to the real estate men because it involved a questionable land deal.

The evidence showed that Seidenglanz and M. J. Rudbeck, a banker, figured in a deal by which a farmer sold his farm in a trade deal, and a piece of property in DePere was turned in as being worth some $4,000, when in fact it was worth only $1,000 to $1,500. Then a fictitious character, "Clarence Seidl," was created, and the property was repurchased from the farmer for $1,000. A civil suit resulted. Seidenglanz and Rudbeck pleaded guilty. The former was sent to prison and the latter, who had turned state's evidence, was fined $500.

BIG EXPANSION IS PLANNED BY LUTHERAN AID

Aid Association for Lutherans to Spread to Every State in Union.

Action of directors of the Aid Association for Lutherans at the annual meeting here Monday may make Appleton the headquarters of one of the largest fraternal organizations in the United States. Highly successful in four years, Dr. G. C. Hoyer, Milwaukee, as medical director for one year and Otto C. Rentner, Chicago, as consulting attorney for one year. Ballots cast in every local branch of the association were opened at the meeting and gave big majorities for re-election of J. P. Schoettler, Appleton, as trustee for four years. Mr. Rentner, C. J. Schultz, Saginaw, Mich., and Henry Kahner, St. Paul, Minn., were re-elected directors for three years. No other terms of office expired this year. The association still has hopes of erecting an office building on the lot it owns at the corner of College avenue and Superior street. The building committee was instructed to develop further plans in this direction, and it is possible that something definite may result within the next year. There was a full attendance of the

INTERLAKE CO. STOPS CONSTRUCTION WORK

The Interlake Pulp and Paper company which has been doing considerable construction work for several months released several men Saturday night, having discontinued further work on account of cold weather. E. F. Young stated that the plant has not felt the slowing down of business to any great extent and that the usual amount of product is being turned out. The company has a fairly good supply of pulpwood on hand and expects to have the amount materially increased immediately after the holidays.

YELLOWSTONE TRAIL HEAD WILL SPEAK IN APPLETON

What the great Yellowstone trail is, what it is accomplishing and what it means to Appleton will be told members of the chamber of commerce by H. G. Cooley, Minneapolis, at a meeting planned for January 17. Mr. Cooley is managing secretary of the Yellowstone Trail association. He has assured Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber, that he will be here on the date mentioned. Facts not generally known to the people of Appleton will be presented by Mr. Cooley. The trail is the center of considerable interest, because Appleton almost lost it at one time. There was also a movement to re-route the trail through Iowa, omitting Wisconsin entirely, but Badger cities put up a fight to save it. More definite arrangements will be announced later.

APPLETON GIRL WINS IN BIG PHOTO CONTEST

The award was based on attractiveness of the subject, composition interest of idea in the picture, appropriateness of setting and quality of photography.

NEW OWNERS ARE NOW IN POSSESSION OF MILL

While the Kimberly-Clark company will not make the formal transfer of the Toluah paper mill to the Fox River Paper company until Jan. 1, 1921, for all practical purposes the change has already been made with the exception of the power department. This has made it possible for the new owners to start work upon certain changes to be made nearly two weeks earlier than was anticipated.

Frank Menkevich of Menasha, was in this city Monday on business. John Sipiski of Menasha, was in Appleton Monday on business.

Deaths

DR. W. T. O'BRIEN

John Tracy received a telegram Monday announcing the death of a relative Dr. W. T. O'Brien, at Ashland. The decedent was a classmate of Dr. N. P. Mills of Appleton. Dr. O'Brien's practice was confined principally to hospital work and shortly after he located at Ashland he had his hands and face so badly burned while acting as Santa Claus for hospital patients that it was necessary for him to go to Chicago, where he was treated by a specialist for two years. He is survived by a widow. Mr. Tracy expects to attend the funeral which will be held Thursday.

MORE CONGRESSMEN

The house of representatives has done the expected thing in planning to increase its membership on the new census basis. It is said that every decennial congress has done this from the beginning. The result has been a steady increase in the number of representatives until the house membership, in the opinion of many critics has become ineffectively large.

There is no question that a smaller membership would function more efficiently. The senate in recent years has usually done better work than the house, largely because there are fewer senators, and they are thus able to handle public business more simply and directly. It has been the experience of dozens of American cities that their local affairs are better cared for by a small group of councilmen or commissioners than by large councils. Business organizations have learned the superiority of small boards of directors over large ones.

The house might have done worse. By taking full advantage of the census increase and keeping the present unit of representation it might have added enough new members to raise the total from 435 to more than 500. By raising the unit of representation from 211,000 to 219,000 people per congressman, it increases the membership only to 483. That, however, is more than enough.

It is easy to sympathize with the motives of the present members. They could not have kept the membership to its present level without cutting down the representation of some states, which have lost slightly in population, and refusing a liberal increase of members to states that have had a large growth. Naturally they do not want to incur the unpopularity of such a move, but it is unfortunate, none the less. And it is not really necessary. Stricter limitation of membership would impose no real injustice, and any fancied injustice would soon be forgotten.

THE TOLL

More than 3,800 persons were killed by automobiles in the United States during the past year, according to the Census bureau. Their number equals the population of any average city ward, or of many a county seat. They were killed at the rate of more than ten a day, or about one every two hours.

Mortality from diseases once greatly dreaded has been materially reduced. In many communities typhoid has been all but wiped out. Diphtheria no longer holds its old terrors. Yellow fever is almost extinct. But man's own folly, neglect and carelessness is substituting new forms of death in place of those he has conquered. Through carelessness probably nine-tenths of the fatal automobile accidents might have been avoided. Lives are lost in frantic efforts to save seconds.

A large number of the years' fatalities resulted from grade crossing accidents in which whole families were exterminated. In many instances there was a desire "to beat the train across." In other cases, crossings were unguarded or the view of the approaching train obscured by standing freight cars. In almost all instances somebody was to blame; somebody was careless; somebody was thoughtless.

The casualties from automobile accidents are rapidly reaching the point where intervention by law in the form of more stringent regulation of automobile driving is a necessity. It is not impossible the day will come when it will be unlawful to own a motor car that will travel over 25 or 30 miles an hour. From present tendencies that seems to be the only practical way to prevent speeding and reckless driving. Protection of the public, and the prevention of accidents to users of motor cars themselves are of far greater importance than to satisfy the whims for excitement and fast driving by those who refused to obey the law.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL

The only danger in connection with the immigration bill that has passed the house is that the the senate will give it so many loophole amendments as to make it ineffective.

It is not claimed that this measure is perfect. It is admittedly a temporary expedient, calculated to stop the flood of immigration for a year to enable congress to work out a wise and permanent policy—build a dam of the necessary height and strength, with suitable floodgates and sluices, so that hereafter the country may admit the people it needs and wants and keep out those it does not need or want.

The newspapers of the country indicate that public sentiment is almost unanimously in favor of this step. The senate should neither interfere nor delay. Any constructive views that any senators have regarding immigration can better be offered as contributions to a permanent solution, later on, during the respite that the house bill will provide.

The highest consideration for our own people demands the enactment of this legislation. Under present conditions it would be most unwise and most unjust to permit the unrestricted flow of immigration to continue. Our first duty is to our own people, and we must discharge that responsibility before we undertake to discharge duties for other peoples. Being only temporary this measure, while permitting us to protect our own interests for the time being, will also enable us to perfect a more consistent and satisfactory immigration policy.

A VICTORY FOR CHINA

Not long ago Baron Hayashi, chief Japanese delegate to Geneva, gave an interview in which he said that it would be many years before China could hope to take rank with the great powers of the world. Dr. Wellington Koo, head of the Chinese delegation, and ambassador to the United States, merely smiled, and courteously expressed his regret that so unkind a remark should have been made.

Dr. Koo hid his time, as in the way of his race, and as he had done from the beginning. He did not even press the Chinese demand for action by the League assembly regarding the continued occupation of the Siamung peninsula by Japan. He made no speeches. But he worked quietly and effectively, and he achieved results. The other day it was announced, to the world's surprise, that China had been elected to membership in the League council, in place of Greece. That changes the whole Asiatic situation.

The League covenant provides for nine members in the council, which is the executive body of the League. Five of these are permanent. They are Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and—if this country joins—the United States. The other four are temporary and elective. For the first year they have been Belgium, Brazil, Spain and Greece. The assembly, facing the duty of choosing the members for the next year, re-elected the first three and, disregarding Greece because it had repudiated the allies and recalled King Constantine, gave the place to China.

Though nominally temporary, it is likely that China will retain the place indefinitely unless unexpected weakness should develop in the Chinese republic or in its representation. This means that China will have as much to say in the League about Asiatic problems and world affairs as Japan has. It is a notable victory for China, the oldest nation represented at Geneva, and for Dr. Koo, the youngest of the diplomats matching their brains there.

CANCER CURE BY BLOOD INFUSION

Berlin.—What he believes to be a cure for cancer of the stomach has been discovered by Dr. Rollin, a famous Hamburg specialist.

From the fact that this cancer is found only in persons above 30 years of age, Dr. Rollin concluded that the blood and bodies of persons under thirty contained some substance which ward off cancer. As a result, he experimented with blood infusion from younger persons, and found that the results were satisfactory and rapid.

The Hamburg university has taken up Rollin's work, and has already concluded that, whether or not the injection method is a cure, it surely effects remarkable improvement. A man, treated in the Eppendorfer hospital, has been released and is now able to work.

The experiments will be carried further to develop whether the method effects a lasting cure.

BLACK PLAGUE IN GERMANY

Berlin.—Six million persons, or one out of every ten inhabitants in Germany, are afflicted with social disease, according to scientific calculations. Efforts are being made to increase the present laws so as to guard against spread of this plague.

In some communities, the law requires the registration of all persons so diseased; and it is possible that reformers will undertake to make this a national law. Likewise efforts are being made to alter the present practice whereby a physician is bound to secrecy as to his clients' affliction with social disease.

The deepest cave known in the world is near Fredericksburg, Norway; it is 11,000 feet deep.

In Germany there are 16,000 men in the American army of occupation.

HOW TO VENTILATE THE OFFICE?

In the past six years I have found but one serious student of the subject intimating that exposure or chilling of the body in any way predisposes to pneumonia. He was a leader in the differential diagnosis of lung fever due to the various types of the Pneumococcus and the application of the corresponding anti-pneumococcal serum in treatment. In a valuable essay describing these important procedures he referred incidentally to the open air treatment, and cited the case of a nurse who refused to bundle herself up sufficiently while attending a pneumonia patient in the open air in cold weather. The nurse went up and came down with lung fever herself. Nurses are always doing something to arouse dissension among the doctors. Well, the way this pneumonia expert described it an uncritical reader might assume that the nurse took cold and the cold settled in her lungs. But I just like to be different from every one else. So I suggested to the pneumonia expert that possibly the nurse had become infected by the patient—stranger things happen in everyday practice. I opined that such infection was even the probable explanation of the nurse's pneumonia. If, as the expert had pointed out, she had not been properly dressed for her work, for, to my mind, at any rate, that implied that she wore no mask and hence was open to any stray droplets of germ-laden moisture the patient may have unwittingly coughed out or spat in conversation.

Of course my lucubrations didn't change the pneumonia expert's mind. Although his essay showed how the disease is caused by certain types or strains of the Pneumococcus, he still found himself saddled with the catching cold delusion. Lots of fine doctors are hard ridden by that delusion. It is bred in them.

There is just one obstacle that prevents good ventilation in offices today, and that is old Auntie Mollycoddle. Sometimes Auntie wears skirts, but more likely she wears trousers and a worried expression. She hates anything resembling a draft worse than a quick doctor hating physiology. Auntie is Mollycoddle's mark and sole ambition in life is to keep good and warm, and who bodes anyone else in the office who may wish to keep cool and well.

Have you a little Aunt Molly in your office? Too bad! Why not buy her a couple pairs or sets of nice light-weight wool or silk-faced wool union suits and some stockings to match, and open a window whenever you like, with impunity to Auntie? The office certainly needs ventilation when the temperature soars above 68 degrees Fahrenheit.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cecilia's Habit

Is it bad for the stomach or bowel to take about a teaspoonful of bitter cascara every alternate night before going to bed? (W. L.)

ANSWER—I know of no medicinal physic which would be less injurious for such habitual use, unless it be phenolphthalein tablets (one or two grains as a dose). The only objection is that the habitual use of a physic impairs the natural sensitiveness of response to food stimulus and therefore in the long run aggravates the constipated habit. Constipation is nothing more than a bad habit in the majority of cases.

Sterilizing a Tooth Brush

Please tell me how to sterilize a new tooth brush without injuring the brush. (M. C. B. A.)

ANSWER—Wash it first with soap and water, rinse well, then let it stand a day in a solution of an ounce of standard Formalin (Liquor Formaldehyde, 40 per cent) in six ounces (glassful) of water, occasionally agitating. This same formula may be used for sterilizing shaving brushes or hair brushes, old or new. When the brush is removed from the formalin solution rinse it repeatedly to remove all the formalin.

MARRY EARLY AND BE HAPPY AT 83

New Castle, Pa.—"Every one should get married, and when young, make their fortunes together, and be a help to each other. It is the only way in which one can go through life happy."

Take it from Philip V. Jones, boys and girls, that's the one sure recipe for lifelong bliss. And Jones ought to know, 83 years young, married 63 years and as much in love with Mrs. Jones as the day they were married in 1857 with all the gossamerous and splendor of a church wedding in South Wales, their birthplace. Mrs. Jones is one year younger than her husband.

In 1863 the couple came to America and settled in New Castle. After that, "we worked hard and played hard," said "Ma" Jones. "I have come through 63 years of married life and would not give up one of my joys or sorrows and there have been many of them. I urge every girl to pick out the right man and marry him."

"I should say the women do pick out the men," with a little grin at "pa." "The men never know what's happening to them."

The couple are the parents of ten children.

Thirty-eight per cent of the electricity produced by public utility plants in this country comes from water-power.

"Sunless Sunday"

By Frederic J. Haskin

New York City.—The proposed Sunday law, which was explained from the Washington viewpoint in this column a few days ago, is the center of a real emotional disturbance here in New York. And here again the excitement seems to have obscured the facts.

Neighborhood meetings are being called in all parts of the city and surrounding suburbs to protest against the restoration of the blue laws; local chapters of the American Legion are organizing to fight them; the Free-thinkers' society is threatening opposition to all kinds of reformers, and the theater and moving picture industries are preparing to fight to keep the subject of the Sabbath out of our ever-growing book of national laws.

Of course, all of us have been more or less prepared for further reforms ever since the successful ratification of the Eighteenth amendment, but it is doubtful if anyone expected them to come so soon, or so many of them at once. Occasionally, we heard that an attack against tobacco was ominously imminent, but that the reformers were sharpening their tomahawks for an attack on all forms of Sunday recreation, healthful or otherwise, was scarcely suspected until the Lord's Day alliance announced its belligerent intentions.

Even now, some people are of the opinion that the alliance cannot be sincere in what it says—that there is some "jinx" about the thing somewhere. For instance, the other night, the following conversation between two business men on the subway, filtered up to the reporter's ears:

"I believe it's all a trumped-up scheme on the part of the republican party," said the first business man sagely. "They may have given these old boys a little encouragement, just to throw them over in the end. For even a feeble-minded person can see that the people are not going to submit to any more restrictions on Sunday. It's bad enough to get through as it is. Well, then, what would make a better impression on the people than for the republics, to squash the blue law agitation just as soon as they get into office. What would win the public's confidence quicker?"

"Hm, that's a pretty theory," said the second business man, "but remember that everybody thought that prohibition was a joke until the supreme court decided it was not." "The first thing you know we'll all be dragged out of bed on Sunday morning by prohibition officers employed by the community to see that we go to church."

A Blue Law Advocate.

On the whole, New York is inclined to treat the Sunless Sunday movement very seriously, and anyone who has heard the Rev. Henry L. Bowley, general secretary of the Lord's Day alliance and leader of the movement, state his case can be perfectly sure that the alliance means what it says.

Mr. Bowley is short of stature and has thick, bushy, graying hair. His eyes are small and crowded, his mouth a thin, determined line above a stubborn chin. In Altoona, Pa., where he was formerly a minister of the gospel, he was known as an excellent "field pastor" rather than an eloquent preacher. In other words, he is an extremely efficient executive—the very type one would expect to find presiding over the crowded, business-like offices of the alliance in the Presbyterian building on Fifth avenue.

When being interviewed, Mr. Bowley is self-confident, but cautious. He is careful not to say anything on his own authority, but quotes elaborately from the pamphlets of the alliance, while one of the officials of that organization, usually his attorney, sits watchfully at his elbow.

When asked if the reported aims of the alliance were true, the other day, the reverend executive asserted that he, personally, had been continually misquoted by the newspapers, but would be glad to rehearse the program and purpose of the organization.

"Our organization is backed by sixteen denominations," he began, "including all except the Roman Catholics, the Jews, the Seventh Day Adventists and the Unitarians. We are well financed. Our lobby at Washington will be a strong and effective one. We shall work in every congressional district in every state. We shall advocate and spread propaganda and cause voters to write incessantly to their representatives in congress until no congressman who cares to stay in congress will dare refuse to vote for our measures. These are the methods used by the Anti-Saloon league, and they were effective."

"We propose to pass no blue laws."

Q. In a game of Five Hundred, the bidder forgot to discard and had two

There are no such things as blue laws and never were, so far as I know. We don't propose to legislate people into church. We do propose to secure legislation which will make it easier for people to go to church. In other words, we shall try to close the baseball parks, the golf links, the motion picture and other theaters, the concert halls, the amusement parks, the tennis courts and the bathing beaches. We shall fight all amusements where an admission fee is charged. We shall oppose golf, baseball, tennis, football and other sports even if purely amateur or devoid of financial cost to those watching or taking part, because they set bad examples for children who otherwise might be content to go to Sunday school.

To Cut Off the Gas.

"We shall seek to restrict the sale of gasoline for pleasure automobiles and urge other measures that will stop Sunday automobile and joy riding. This will not bring the old-fashioned horse and buggy back because we believe that the Lord's day should be a day of rest for man and beast."

"Excursion steamer rides on Sunday will be opposed by us on the grounds that they are unnecessary to the moral welfare of America. We also see no reason why the public libraries or art galleries should remain open on Sunday. And Sunday newspapers are certainly unnecessary."

When pressed for his opinion of something that the people could do on Sunday besides go to church, Mr. Bowley declared that there would be no objection to them walking in the fields or parks or attending the beaches. "Provided they do not go in bathing," he added.

It has been stated several times in the newspapers that the program of the Lord's Day alliance is strongly backed by the Anti-Saloon league, but the Anti-Saloon league now vigorously denies it. According to the officials of the New York branch of this organization, they are not the slightest bit concerned with the fate of Sunday, but are spending all their time and energy in attempting to see that prohibition is enforced.

There are sixteen denominations said to be backing the Lord's Day alliance in its campaign to suppress Sunday recreation are not entirely unanimous in their stand is evidenced by the statements of individual members of the clergy, who have frankly criticized the blue law movement. One of these courageous dissenters is Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, here, who referred to the matter as follows, in a recent sermon:

Some Pastors Oppose It.

"This proposed campaign for strict Sunday laws is one of those well meant but misguided efforts which do harm instead of good, to the cause they are intended to serve. It is impracticable, wrong in principle and based on a narrow and imperfect conception of the Christian religion. It would do far more to drive religion out of the hearts of the people than to draw them toward it."

"We have no right to compel religious observance of Sunday by law. The law should forbid all unnecessary business on Sunday, and thus, as far as possible, secure to all their right to Sunday as a day of freedom from their ordinary occupations and of religious observance if they wish to use it. Further than this, the law may not rightly go."

The Right Rev. Charles S. Burch, bishop of New York, is also firmly opposed to forcing Sunday blue laws upon the people. He says: "I do not believe that the people of this country are going back to the New England blue laws. If what little I have seen is correct, the reformers are going pretty far. I do not believe we are going to have such a revolution as would occur if we prohibit interstate commerce on Sunday. You cannot legislate people into moral or ethical positions. You can educate them to it, but you cannot achieve morality by compelling them to give up what they believe are their constitutional rights."

Even more interesting than the views of the clergy are the views of the people now pouring into the offices of New York newspapers, some of which are printing them in their columns. Unfortunately, we have not the space to set down the opinions of the people here. But suffice it to say hostile to all reformers. They show that they are surprisingly serious and conclusively that the Sunless Sunday will not be accepted with the same good-natured resignation that ushered in the Eighteenth amendment.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

OSHKOSH POLITICS IS BADLY TWISTED

Sawdust City Will Vote on Abolition of Commission Government.

Oshkosh.—Oshkosh municipal politics is in the worst tangle in the history of the city. The voters must decide at an election on Tuesday, whether they will abandon the present commission form. Upon this verdict depends whether another special election will be called at an early date. A petition for the recall of Mayor A. C. McHenry, lately a candidate for United States senator on a "wet" platform, was filed with the county judge on the same day that the petition for abandonment of the commission form was filed with the mayor.

The backers of the direct move against the mayor declare they will press the issue however the election on Tuesday results, but if the commission form is recalled, it is believed that the move would be blocked, as

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

MILTON COLLEGE IS MAKING UP DEFICIT

Milton.—Milton college, which, in common with many other educational institutions, has had to face a possible deficit of several thousand dollars this year on account of economic conditions, is emerging from what looked like a desperate financial situation. According to figures announced by college officials, the income for the current year from interest on the endowment, student tuitions and fees, and a contribution from the national forward movement of Seventh Day Baptists, lacks less than $7,000 of meeting the budget of expenses.

Dr. William C. Daland, president of the college, is confident that gifts from friends of the college and the income from a proposed sustaining fund will make up the deficit. Thanksgiving collections taken in Seventh Day Baptist churches of the middle west have reduced the prospective deficit by $3,000.

all the commissioners would vacate their offices in April.

Mayor McHenry passed favorably upon the petition for an election to recall the commission form, within twenty-four hours after it was filed, and ordered the election at the earliest possible moment.

Advertising Campaign

The campaign is devoid of spectacular features, no public meetings being on the program of either faction. The commission form has no organization other than the administration backing the efforts for its retention, and such organization as is possessed by the opposition does not openly show itself beyond a mild advertising campaign.

One of the opening guns of the defensive campaign was an advertisement published by Commissioner Charles F. Harter, which presented without comment or explanation a list of the names of those who circulated the petitions. The object was to disprove the persistent contention that the move is a workmen's move, originating on the south side.

Mayor McHenry in a paid "proclamation" warned the voters that dissatisfaction with any city official is not a valid indictment against a form of government, and Commissioner William F. Porath, voicing the same sentiment, also promised that when his term expires in 1922 he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Mayor McHenry has intimated that the school board and its friends are making use of the movement "to get the mayor," and that the "ultra drys" are also behind the move because of his state campaign on a liberal platform.

SCHOOL NAMING IS CAUSE OF RUMPUS

Superior Controversy Brings Demand for Women on School Board.

Superior.—Incensed at the selection of the name Martin Pattison, instead of Faith Helen Rogers, for a new public school building, Superior women are demanding an equal vote with men in the board of education and a referendum on doing away with the plan of naming schools after prominent citizens.

With the completion of the new school, a spirited controversy arose over the selection of a name. The name of Faith Helen Rogers, a prominent Superior girl who died en route to France where she was to enter a Y. M. C. A. canteen, was first mentioned.

by Mrs. Martin Pattison, the name of Martin Pattison was suggested and adopted by the board of education despite the women's protest.

After a discussion on women's rights in matters of education, the Woman's council passed two resolutions, the first urging that the representation of women and men on the school board be equally divided.

Would Revise All Names.

The second resolution was as follows:

"Resolved, that the mayor and the council of the city of Superior be respectfully petitioned to devise some means of taking a referendum vote on the following proposition:

"Shall the present method of naming school houses in the city of Superior be abandoned and the method used in the future be the same as that followed in other large centers, where the designation of the school house is made to indicate the location, like the Tenth ward school, the First ward school, the Second ward school, etc., it being understood that in this process of changing all the present names of schools shall be abandoned except in the case of the two high schools."

Considering all expenses, it costs an undergraduate at Oxford at least $1,500 a year to carry on his studies.

NEW LONDON BORDEN PLANT IS MAKING CANS

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New London.—The Borden Condensary is busy at present in the can machine room where it is manufacturing cans for its own milk and also for other factories. The company formerly purchased cans from a Chicago concern, but found it more profitable to make them here. Seven large orders were received the last week.

The W. R. C. annual meeting was held Friday afternoon and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Mabel McClellan, president; Mrs. Edna Dailley, senior vice president; Mrs. C. J. GREEN BAY MAIL POUCH IS STOLEN

Robbers Open Letters and Extract Money and Valuables —Probe Is Started.

Green Bay, Wis.—A bag of mail containing 600 to 800 letters, many of which are believed to have contained Christmas gift money, although none of it was registered or insured mail, was stolen from the Milwaukee road station here on Friday night. The mail was first class, destined for Channing and Calumet, Mich.

George P. Reidenbach, postoffice inspector, is here working on the case, in co-operation with the local police and sheriff's force. He said that nearly half of the letters had been recovered, but all had been opened and no valuable contents were left.

Part of Letters Burned.

Portions of the pouch, together with partly burned letters, were found in an empty freight car late on Saturday by employees of the Interstate Coal company, who were cleaning the car for loading at the docks. The robbers had set out to destroy the pouch and letters, but had concluded to burn no more after half had been destroyed. Inspector Reidenbach said the thieves apparently at first thought it would cover their flight to burn the pouch and mail, but feared that the smoke of the growing fire would be seen or would set fire to the box car and other property.

Taken From Baggage Room.

The pouch was in the baggage room and was to be put on the 11:15 train for the north. The baggage man insists that he surely put it on that train. The inspector, however, says he has facts from which he has concluded that the pouch was stolen from the baggage room and was not placed on the train.

HEAVY TUBER CROP KEEPS PRICE DOWN

Movement of Wisconsin Potatoes Is Not as Heavy as a Year Ago.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison.—In its semi-monthly news letter the division of markets says of the potato situation:

"The determination of most of the farmers of the state to hold their potatoes for higher prices has no effect whatever on the market for instead of prices going higher they have gone down until now the prices being paid are about on a level with the low mark for the season.

Losses Seem Sure

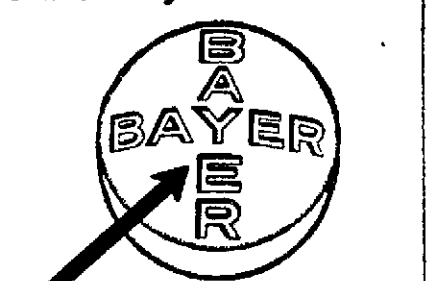

"The opinion of a majority of shippers and dealers who are distributing the crop seems to be that there will be large quantities of potatoes that will never be marketed. The country as a whole has an extremely heavy crop and potatoes are plentiful with the demand below normal. Wisconsin has a crop approximately 6,000 cars larger than last year's, yet shipments so far this year have only been about two-thirds as heavy as the shipments to this date last year. With large quantities going into storage it seems certain that spring shipments will be heavy and thus the market will be well supplied and prices necessarily low if all of the crop is to be sold. In ordinary years about two-thirds of the crop has been moved by January first while this year's shipments to January first amount to only about one-third of the crop. Some of the other potato growing states are in the same position as Wisconsin and while it is impossible to predict just what will happen, the general consensus of opinion is that the price of potatoes this spring will not be much greater than the average prices paid during his fall.

Shipments Light

"Shipments have been light amounting to only 6,439 cars up to and including December 10, as compared with 10,943 cars shipped last year. Prices being paid the farmers vary over the state from 75c to $1.00 cwt. for U. S. Grade No. 1 potatoes. No. 2 potatoes being bought bring 40c cwt. The Chicago market has been weak and the movement of potatoes light. U. S. No. 1 sacked Wisconsin stock is bringing $1.25-1.45 with bulk at $1.40-1.50."

PROMINENT RACINE MAN NAMED IN DIVORCE CASE

Racine.—Judge E. B. Belden Friday granted a divorce to Gertrude A. Wallis from Henry M. Wallis, prominent young Racine manufacturer, son of Henry M. Wallis, sr., president of the J. L. Case Flow Works Co., and grandson of Jerome I. Case, founder of the Case Threshing Machine and Flow Works companies.

Mr. Wallis was ordered to pay $40,000 to Mrs. Wallis as settlement in full of alimony claims. He agreed to pay $20,000 in French, Belgium and Norwegian bonds and $20,000 in United States industrials.

The Wallis wedding took place in Stamford, Conn., in 1912. Mrs. Wallis was formerly a prominent eastern society girl. The couple separated by agreement in 1915.

Last year Mr. Wallis filed suit for divorce in Milwaukee but before the case came to trial it was withdrawn. Mr. Wallis and his wife refused to make statements at that time as to the reason for the action being dropped.

Mr. Wallis is an assistant to his father at the manufacturing plant.

GOVERNOR BUYS FARM IN HIS BOYHOOD HOME

Madison.—Gov. Philipp Thursday closed a deal in Baraboo for the purchase of the Gustavus B. Talmann farm of 112 acres in the town of Sauntemper, Sauk county. The price was $33,750, three times the amount the farm owner paid for it four years ago.

Gov. Philipp gave an additional margin because the place is regarded as one of the most beautiful in Sauk county. The governor stated that he intends to erect additional buildings as soon as plans can be drawn up. He also announced he would sell his farm in Hartford.

Sauk county was the scene of the governor's early life. He was born near the Sauntemper farm, in the town of Honey Creek, in 1867.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a minute to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

Winston-Salem, N. C.
Monday

DEAR PETEY:

Bet you a house and lot you'd stay in W-S a month if you ever got to know folks here like I have. Between business and Reynolds factories and a bully time—well my date book has been bubbling over! And, I'm still running into facts that would stagger even your imagination, old football, with all your kick!

Pete, take it straight from government figures direct to you, that every work day in the week R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. buys from our "Uncle Sam" enough revenue stamps to pay for a duplicate of the handsome new Winston-Salem post office building! Ever hear of such a thing?

And, if you want to get an eyefull of an army of more than 15,000 people, be down in the Reynolds factory district when the whistles blow! Never saw such a cigarette firing-up time in my life!

Peter, everytime you light a Camel in the future, call back on what I've slipped you about Camels—absolutely, the greatest cigarette at any price—for quality, for refreshing flavor, for mellow mild body, for freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or odor! It's worth the busiest smoker's time to compare Camels with any cigarette in the world! Camels are simply a revelation! You know that.

I'll open my eyes in Atlanta tomorrow! In the meantime here's a wad of best wishes I have in stock!

Yours

Shorty.

Scouts Have Lots Of Fun And Teach Right Living

Appleton Boys Tell Reporter
Why They Joined Boy Scout Organization.

"You can have lots of fun when you are a boy scout. This seems to be the argument most Appleton scouts would put forth as their reason for belonging to the organization, judging from answers received in interviews with about a dozen boys.

Many boys joined the scouts so they would have an opportunity to use their "excess" energy in athletics or in hiking. It appears that few of the future leaders of the United States realize the real thing about scouting—that rules of the scouts instill habits that are beneficial all thru life, and that training in discipline they receive will be a great asset when they grow older.

Marvin Wiggins said the principles of the scout organization are of the right sort, and that is why he joined the boy scouts.

"There is fun in it, too," he said, "but one gets in with the right sort of fellows and learns things that are good. I don't think one understands the idea until he is in for quite a while. After that, you can tell better whether it is a good idea or not."

John Hyde, Jr., who is probably Appleton's oldest active boy scout, said: "When I joined the scouts were just starting in Appleton, and it was a novel thing. I just sort of liked the plan so I joined. I was told that there was a lot of fun to be had. Now that I have been in for over six years, it is easier to see how I am being helped by it."

Keep out of mischief
"The scouts should do a lot of good," said Marvin Ellis. "When fellows are going with a bad bunch and getting in wrong, a good plan is to get them to join the scouts. By being with the right bunch, it will reform him, and keep him from making trouble for everybody when he becomes a man. A scout has good times, too. We have games and stunts that no one else has, and we can have a good time when we go on our hikes."

Melvin Schneider says that one is able to learn about nature. To love nature one is required to be able to appreciate even the smallest things about it. Schneider thinks that he is taught better to understand it if he is with a crowd who are all interested in the same subject. Of course, his crowd would be all boy scouts.

Learn To Help Others
"The first aid and swimming tests are first rate," Melvin said. "One never knows when he will be called upon to use his first aid upon someone. At a big fire or accident there are very few people who know how to help those who have been injured. Fellows aren't apt to learn those things unless they belong to some organization that teaches them.

"The eight scout laws would be good for anybody whether they are scouts or not. To be thrifty, clean and such things isn't for boy scouts only, but the boy scout is expected to live up to the rules, and so he gets the benefit later in life.

"You are expected to earn the money for your uniform. That makes a fellow feel sort of independent. He don't have to look to someone else to make his living for him."

"You learn things that are good for you at any time in your life," said Royal LaRoe. "First aid always comes in handy. When I joined the scouts I liked the idea of having a lot of fun. But they told me it wasn't all fun, so I went in to get the most good I could out of it."

Gain Confidence
Douglas Hyde joined the boy scouts with the intention of learning a lot of things about first aid and scouting in general that would help him in the world. He thought the tests, for one thing, gave him confidence in things he could do. Then the hikes, Douglas thought, were healthful, besides being a lot of fun.

Sports are healthful and a lot of fun, said Roger Ashman and Walter Heideman, who joined so they could play basketball and go on hikes. Both of these activities are invigorating, and they help build up the body.

BOATMEN ASK MORE LIGHTS AND BUOYS

Government Will Be Asked to Make Lake and River
More Safe for Boats.

New aids to navigation in Lake Winnebago and the Fox river will be asked of congress in response to requests of the Licensed Tugmen's Protective association at its annual meeting at Oshkosh. A. M. Dier of the Fox River Improvement office attended the sessions.

Congressmen Florian Lambert, Oshkosh, and Edward Browne, Waupaca, have agreed to use their influence to bring about needed changes. Capt. Charles Hubbard, superintendent of lighthouses for the government will also advocate better safety measures.

The boatmen urged that a lighted buoy be established at the mouth of the Fox river at Oshkosh to mark the channel night and day to provide safe entrance. A similar light is wanted for the reefs off the Neenah shore and for the harbors on the east shore of the lake. It was also urged that range lights be provided at Stockbridge harbor, at the docks and on the submerged dredge banks along the lower Fox river.

Buoys are wanted in place of the present spars to be painted red on the starboard side and black on the port side according to regulation colors of navigation.

DOYLE TELLS HOW WELLS ARE "SHOT"

Former Appleton Man Has First
Experience of Well "Shooting" in Texas.

J. W. (Figg) Doyle, who is at Gainesville, Texas, visited Muenster, Texas, when an oil well was "shot" and said that he felt shot the rest of the day. Six hundred quarts of nitroglycerine were placed in the well at a depth of 1,870 feet and its discharge was accompanied by a muffled sound of the explosion as it came from the hole, but the oil failed to accompany the noise. The nitroglycerine closed the opening at the depth at which it was discharged, making it necessary to drill out the accumulation of dirt at which time the oil or gas, if there is any, will find an outlet at the top of the ground.

The nitroglycerine was taken to Muenster in an automobile truck from Healdton, Okla., in charge of expert "shooters." This explosive is carried in small containers called torpedoes. They are packed much in the fashion of a precious stone or piece of jewelry so no severe jar or vibration will be encountered, which might cause premature explosion.

The containers are let down into the well, one at a time and then discharged. The principal of the process is to crumble any rock or other hard substance at the bottom of the well, thus allowing the oil or gas to have uninterrupted flow, if such a deposit happens to be near by.

Mr. Doyle is of the opinion that there were a number of Appleton stockholders financially interested in the well who would be glad to learn of the progress that was being made. The former Appletonian said that the weather was fine and that he liked the country very much.

INDIANA BODY MOVES TO SAVE SHADE TREES

Appleton is not known to be losing its shade trees through the destructive "sucking scale." The chamber of commerce will make a tentative survey, however, in response to a communication from the Greater Terre Haute club, Terre Haute, Ind.

The letter states that many valuable shade trees have been lost thru the ravages of this almost invisible insect. A plan is about to be adopted to spray shade trees, especially elms, the same as fruit trees.

A questionnaire regarding the situation in Appleton and possible methods of remedying losses was enclosed with the letter. This will be filled out and returned by Hugh C. Corbett, managing secretary, who will make inquiry here. The results of the questionnaire will be compiled in booklet form and a copy is promised the local chamber.

MEMBERS RETURN BLANKS ON STREET CAR MATTER

Chamber of commerce members are showing unusual interest in the referendum from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States on the street railway problem. A number of ballots have already been returned and more arrive in each mail.

"The results will be compiled into a blanket ballot voicing the sentiment of the majority of members. This will be sent to Washington, where votes from 1,400 commercial bodies will show the prevailing sentiment all over the United States toward support of street railway companies.

CANDY PUNCH BOARDS BARRED FROM STORES

states, and will not be tolerated. They are a means of selling candy by punching numbers out of a board, only certain ones of which will win a box of sweets. A charge is made each time the board is punched.

week from January 17 to 23. News paper space, circulars, posters, motion pictures and speeches will be utilized to carry the doctrine of thrift and careful living into every home in Appleton. It is planned to make the week one of the most successful of its kind ever attempted in the state.

Judson G. Roebush was elected president and H. B. Frame was named secretary of the committee in charge of the campaign at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Monday afternoon. Committees to arrange for finances, programs and publicity will be appointed.

Holiday Hours

Holiday hours will be observed Saturday at the Y. M. C. A. The office will be open from two to six o'clock in the afternoon. R. H. Starkey and H. B. Frame will be in charge.

Never before in history have big employers taken so seriously to the idea of thrift among their employees as they are doing now. It was said. At least two large companies have recently made arrangements to sell common stock to their workers on partial payment plans in order to induce them to save money and many others are contemplating similar action.

Purposes of Thrift Week

Purposes of national thrift week, as outlined by the national organizations sponsoring the movement, are:

"To stimulate the individual to think straight and to act wisely in regard to money matters in the realms of earning, spending, saving, investing and giving.

THE GIFT OF A GULBRANSEN IS SOMETHING TO LOOK FORWARD TO — AND BACK TO! MAKE THIS A MEMORABLE CHRISTMAS.

How many homes there are where the Gulbransen actually arouses a new interest in life! Evenings have grown rather dull; all the family feel the lack of entertainment, of attraction. Brother Bill and Sister Ann seem anxious to hurry to the "movie" down the street directly after dinner, or that being impossible, over to a neighbor's, where there is music.

For the one gift filling every requirement—satisfying all, Dad, Mother and the children, yes, and Grand-Dad and Grand-Ma, too—is the Gulbransen. Why, the mere thought sets the imagination going; the mere suggestion of a Gulbransen to make the evenings cheery, to entertain friends, to draw the family together.

And in after years—when the Gulbransen has endeared itself to every one—Christmas, 1920, will be looked back to as the Christmas.

That Christmas Gulbransen is at our store—in just the style and finish you prefer. The Gulbransen, you know, is that "Easy to Play," Nationally-Famous, Nationally-Priced Player-Piano.

It is made in three styles, sold at the same prices to everyone, everywhere in the United States.

Let us serve you, too

Our special process means least wear on the clothes and washes cleanest. Then we'll starch and dry everything. We'll iron all "flat" work—bed linen, towels, rags, handkerchiefs, etc.,—taking care no piece is scorched or discolored, as so often happens in ironing at home. Then we'll hand it back—leaving nothing for you to do but dampen and iron the few remaining pieces—all at really small cost.

What easy work St. Nicholas would have if he had to choose presents for such homes only!

RUMELY SENTENCED TO YEAR IN PRISON

By United Press Leased Wire New York.—Dr. Edward A. Rumely, former publisher, this afternoon was sentenced to imprisonment of one year and one day in Atlanta prison following conviction of concealing German ownership of the Evening Mail.

Walter Kaufman and Robert Lindheim, attorneys and co-defendants, received the same sentence. No fines were imposed.

The three men were remanded in custody of their counsel for 24 hours to prepare notices of appeal. The court intimated that if their appeal was granted bail would be fixed at $10,000.

There was little talking because most of the men have been too seriously injured to permit of such activity, but the games which were played brought some joy.

No nurse-servant had anything to do with the refreshments which certainly did not remind any one of army grub. Chow was not called by a bugle but by the sweet voice of a sister of one of the disabled men.

Miss Dorothy Orstein left Friday for Chicago where she will spend a two weeks' vacation.

All Other Industries Show Decrease in Number of Employees in State.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison.—The number of employees in factories in Wisconsin decreased 4.6% in November as compared with October, according to the monthly labor market report of the Industrial Commission. The total earnings of factory employees decreased 10.3%.

These figures are based upon reports filed by 200 of the largest establishments, which have between 1-4 and 1-3 of the entire payroll of the state. Between July 15 and November 15 the decrease in the number of persons employed in Wisconsin was 14 per cent.

The greatest decreases occurred in the automobile, boot and shoe, clothing, and woodworking industries. Increases in the number employed in November as compared with October occurred only in the pulp and paper mills, meat packing establishments, and in miscellaneous industries, including principally railroad repair shops and public utility plants.

HOLIDAY DANCE FOR CITY'S YOUNG FOLKS

Appleton Woman's Club Sponsors Big Party at Armory December 28.

Elaborate plans are underway for a Christmas dancing party to be given by the recreation department of Appleton Woman's Club at the Armory, Dec. 28 for all young people of the city. The hall will be decorated, in keeping with the season, with a red and green canopy and Christmas trees. Most of the plans of the committee are kept secret—not to be revealed until the night of the party. Members of the decorating committee are the Misses Esther Ashman, Pauline Hoffman, Margaret Peters, Hannah Rosenthal and Mrs. Gerald Scherke. Mrs. Arthur Rütger and Mrs. Arthur Durdell.

The evening will be featured by two BROTHERHOOD OF AMERICAN YEOMAN. Be sure to attend the Christmas Party Wednesday, Dec. 22 and bring your friends with you. We need YOU to make it a success.

novel stunts. The Misses Esther Ashman and Hannah Rosenthal will dance the "Dance of the Tinsel Furies." Then the "Unharmful Orchestra" composed of 16 or 18 pieces (each one guaranteed to keep the wrong pitch), will appear. This orchestra petitioned the committee for permission to play or the evening but the committee didn't dare allow it to play without a public hearing. Reluctant consent was given to play during the intermission. The orchestra presented credentials and promised to include in its repertoire certain well known tunes.

The leader is a distinguished Frenchman, remarkable for his grace of carriage and "gesticulatory" abilities. The members will, of course, appear in uniform.

One of the corners of the Armory is to be furnished up cozily for the chaperones of whom there will be about twelve couples. These people will be ready to help make the young people attending the dance feel at home and will introduce them. The Sport's Council will act as a floor committee.

The Misses Marie Ziegenhagen, Norma Gerlach and Margaret Schaefer will be the punch committee.

Dancing will be from eight o'clock until one o'clock, and music will be furnished by Mr. Stecker's orchestra. Tickets may be secured from any of the members of the Sport's Council or at the Appleton Woman's Club. Members of the committee have been asked to call for their tickets as soon as possible.

Mrs. Eric Lindberg, Walnut street, left Tuesday morning for New Richmond where she will spend the holidays with relatives.

URGE FARMERS TO KEEP RECORD BOOK

Bankers Will Supply Simple Account Systems—Will Aid Tax Assessor.

Farmer will be urged to keep simple books of account next year so they can arrive at the amount of their taxable income accurately. John A. Lonsdorf, county assessor of incomes, has been asked to cooperate with the Wisconsin Bankers' association to bring this about.

A communication from John H. Pucher, Milwaukee, Wisconsin chairman of the American Bankers' association, says every farmer in the state will be asked to start an account record.

Bankers plan to learn how the farmers stand, whether they are making or losing money. The books will not only aid farmers in compiling their assets and liabilities, it is stated, but the income tax assessor will be aided in arriving at incomes of rural residents. The Wisconsin Bankers' association has made arrangements whereby the farmers can get simple and complete farm account books through any bank in the state. Every Appleton bank intends to keep them. Samples are already received. Books have been ordered and will be ready for distribution in a few days.

Improve Business
It is believed that proper farm records will aid the farmer to improve his business. In the Wisconsin farm contest conducted by the college of agriculture it was found that farmers of a certain county made $1,000 more profit per farm than the average contestant in other counties. The bankers maintain that this difference may be due to poor soil, poor crops, poor or insufficient live stock, poor feeding, poor market conditions or something else. An account book properly kept will usually reveal the exact reason. It is also important to compare the amount of capital invested in land, buildings, machinery, cattle, horses, sheep and other livestock with similar investments of more successful farmers.

mers. The farm account book, it is claimed, will show all this.

The account book is a check on the farmer's outgo and also tabulates figures showing whether the farmer makes sufficient money on his investment or not. A knowledge of book-keeping is not necessary with a specially prepared book of the kind bankers are issuing.

Mr. Lonsdorf believes that it will be a simple matter to prepare an income tax blank once a farmer has his income and expenditures properly recorded in an account book. There is no guesswork. The net revenue can be figured in a few minutes from the records, with the assurance that it is absolutely accurate. Returns will thus reach the assessor quickly and in better shape.

ALL MEAT MARKETS WILL BE OPEN UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK THURSDAY EVENING AND WILL CLOSE AT 6 O'CLOCK FRIDAY P. M.

Overnight Camp
Troop 2 of the Appleton Boy Scouts returned Tuesday from a hiking trip to the lake. The boys left Monday morning with Leigh Hooley, assistant scout commissioner, in charge. They spent Monday evening at the Galpin cottage.

Wallace Marshall left Tuesday morning for Milwaukee and Chicago where he will spend the Christmas holidays.

WANT ONLY TESTED MILK SOLD IN CITY

Chamber of Commerce Will Consider Appeal of Citizens for Pure Milk.

Shall all milk delivered in Appleton be tuberculin tested or pasteurized?

The community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce will take up this question at its next meeting in response to several appeals from Appleton citizens for protection against the possible spread of disease through milk. An ordinance requiring proper testing has been suggested.

The subject is already receiving attention in Outagamie county. One or two dealers pasteurize all milk before it is delivered to patrons. The Gopher Hill cheese factory patrons voted to have every cow tested that supplies milk to the plant. Both the Holstein and Guernsey breeders' associations showed keen interest in the subject of tuberculin testing, at their annual meetings last week. The community welfare committee will probably study the subject from all angles and is expected to make a definite recommendation to the board of directors.
